Biggest Upsets in FA Cup History: When Underdogs Stole the Show

biggest upsets in fa cup history have become some of the most cherished moments in English football. The FA Cup, with its rich tradition and open format, often paves the way for smaller clubs to challenge the giants. These surprising results not only capture the imagination of fans but also highlight the magic and unpredictability of knockout football. From minnows defeating top-flight teams to dramatic giant killings, the history of the FA Cup is peppered with unforgettable shocks that still resonate today.

The Magic of the FA Cup: Why Upsets Matter

The FA Cup is unique among football competitions because it invites clubs from all tiers of the English football pyramid. This structure naturally sets the stage for David versus Goliath encounters, where lower-league teams face Premier League powerhouses. The excitement around these clashes stems from the possibility that the underdog can triumph, defying odds and expectations.

These biggest upsets in FA Cup history remind us why football is so beloved worldwide. They demonstrate that no match is a foregone conclusion and that heart, determination, and a bit of luck can tip the scales. Fans from small towns often rally behind their local teams during these matches, creating an atmosphere charged with passion and hope.

Iconic Giant Killings: Historic FA Cup Shockers

Hereford United vs Newcastle United (1972)

One of the most legendary moments in FA Cup lore is Hereford United's stunning victory over Newcastle United in the 1971-72 season. At the time, Newcastle was a top-tier club, while Hereford played in the Southern League, several divisions below. The match went to a replay after a draw in the initial game. Hereford's Ronnie Radford scored a spectacular long-range goal that has since become iconic, helping Hereford secure a 2-1 win.

This upset is often cited as the quintessential giant killing, showcasing the romance of the FA Cup. It embodies the idea that with grit and belief, even the smallest clubs can make history.

Wrexham vs Arsenal (1992)

Another monumental upset came when Wrexham, a Fourth Division side at the time, defeated the mighty Arsenal, who had just won the English league and were considered one of the strongest teams in Europe. The 2-1 victory stunned the football world and remains a highlight in FA Cup history. This match serves as a reminder that league status and star power can be overturned in a one-off cup tie.

Sunderland vs Leeds United (1973)

Sunderland's shock victory over Leeds United in the 1973 FA Cup final is among the most celebrated giant killings in history. Leeds was a dominant force in English football, and Sunderland was battling relegation in the Second Division. Against all odds, Sunderland won 1-0, proving that cup finals can defy logic and statistics.

Recent Upsets That Shocked the Football World

Luton Town vs Norwich City (2013)

In more recent decades, the FA Cup has continued to produce jaw-dropping results. When Luton Town, then playing in the Conference (fifth tier), defeated Norwich City, a Premier League club, it reminded fans of the competition's unpredictability. The 1-0 victory was a testament to Luton's defensive resilience and tactical discipline.

Lincoln City vs Burnley (2017)

Lincoln City's FA Cup run in 2016-17 was historic, as they became the first non-league side in over a century to reach the quarter-finals. Along the way, they defeated Burnley, a Premier League club, 1-0. The victory showcased how lower-league teams can harness momentum, belief, and home advantage to overcome technically superior opponents.

Wigan Athletic vs Manchester City (2013)

Wigan Athletic's triumph over Manchester City in the 2013 FA Cup final is a modern classic upset. Despite Manchester City's wealth and star-studded lineup, Wigan won 1-0, claiming their first-ever FA Cup title. This win was not just a shock but a triumph of tactical organization and relentless effort.

What Makes an FA Cup Upset Possible?

Several key factors contribute to these biggest upsets in FA Cup history. Understanding these can offer insights into how underdogs manage to pull off the unthinkable.

- One-off Matches: Unlike league play, FA Cup ties are knockout games, which means a single good performance can eliminate a superior team.

- Motivation and Mindset: Underdogs often play with nothing to lose and everything to prove, leading to fearless performances.
- Home Advantage: Smaller clubs hosting bigger teams can use their familiar surroundings and passionate fans to unsettle opponents.
- Squad Rotation: Top clubs sometimes rest key players in early rounds, which can level the playing field.
- Conditions and Pitch: Lower-league grounds may have less pristine pitches, complicating the game for technically superior teams.

The Cultural Impact of Giant Killings in the FA Cup

These shock results do more than just alter tournament brackets; they have a profound cultural impact. For smaller clubs, a big upset can mean significant financial rewards through prize money, increased ticket sales, and media attention. It also raises the club's profile, inspiring local communities and future generations.

For football fans, these moments create memories that last a lifetime. They add layers of narrative to the sport, where the focus isn't just on the elite teams but the entire football ecosystem. The FA Cup giant killings symbolize hope, reminding us all that in football, anything is possible.

Lessons for Fans and Teams

If you're a fan of a smaller club, these historic upsets offer hope and inspiration. Supporting your team with unwavering passion during such cup runs can galvanize players and create a fortress-like atmosphere.

For teams, the lessons are clear: never underestimate your opponent and prepare thoroughly, regardless of their league status. The FA Cup teaches humility to giants and ambition to minnows alike.

The biggest upsets in FA Cup history are a testament to the enduring allure of football's most democratic competition. Whether it's a non-league side knocking out a Premier League giant or a lower division team lifting the trophy against all odds, these moments remind us why the FA Cup remains one of the most magical tournaments in the sport. They celebrate the unpredictable beauty of football and the spirit of competition that defines the game at every level.

Biggest Upsets in FA Cup History: A Deep Dive into Football's Most Shocking Moments biggest upsets in fa cup history have long fascinated football fans, analysts, and historians alike. The FA Cup, as the oldest national football competition in the world, holds a special place in the sport's landscape, offering drama, unpredictability, and the quintessential "David vs Goliath" narrative. Throughout its storied existence, the tournament has produced countless surprises that have defied expectations and rewrote football folklore. This article explores some of the most remarkable giant-killings and unexpected results that have left an indelible mark on the competition.

Understanding the FA Cup's Unique Appeal

The FA Cup's magic largely stems from its knockout nature, where teams from different tiers of English football clash on neutral or home grounds. Unlike league competitions, where consistency over a season determines success, the FA Cup thrives on singular moments of brilliance, resilience, and, often, sheer luck. This format naturally lends itself to upsets, where lower-division or non-league clubs topple established First Division or Premier League giants.

Moreover, the FA Cup's tradition encourages smaller clubs to dream big, with matches often played in front of raucous crowds and under intense media scrutiny. The tournament's open structure means that even a team from the fifth or sixth tier can face a top-flight club, setting the stage for dramatic encounters that echo through time.

Historical Giants Slain: Notable Upsets in the FA Cup

Some of the biggest upsets in FA Cup history resonate because of the sheer gulf in class between the opponents. Here, we examine a selection of these landmark shocks that exemplify the tournament's unpredictability.

Hereford United vs Newcastle United (1972)

One of the most iconic giant-killings in FA Cup history occurred in 1972 when non-league Hereford United stunned Newcastle United, then a top-tier side. The match, a third-round replay, saw Hereford come from behind to win 2-1, courtesy of a legendary goal by Ronnie Radford—a thunderous strike from outside the box that has since become emblematic of FA Cup magic.

This upset was significant not only because Hereford was a non-league team but also because Newcastle had been a dominant force in English football. The victory propelled Hereford into the national spotlight and demonstrated the capacity for lower-tier teams to compete at the highest level in knockout football.

Sutton United's Triumph over Coventry City (1989)

Sutton United's 1989 victory over Coventry City is another defining moment in the FA Cup's annals. At the time, Sutton was a non-league side, while Coventry was a First Division club—one of the best in England. The 2-1 win for Sutton United in the third round reverberated through the football community, illustrating how tactical discipline and unwavering determination can bridge the gap between professional and semi-professional football.

Coventry City's defeat was particularly shocking given their status and resources, making this upset a case study in the unpredictability that defines the FA Cup's allure.

Wrexham's Victory Against Arsenal (1992)

Welsh club Wrexham's 2-1 win over Arsenal in 1992 remains one of the biggest shocks in the competition's history. Arsenal, managed by George Graham, was among the top teams in English football, whereas Wrexham played in the lower divisions. The match's significance was amplified by Arsenal's pedigree and the expectation that they would progress comfortably.

Wrexham's victory demonstrated the tactical and psychological factors that can influence cup ties. It also emphasized the importance of home advantage and the intense motivation exhibited by underdogs, who often view these matches as career-defining opportunities.

More Recent Shocks: Bradford City vs Chelsea (2015)

The FA Cup continues to deliver shocks in the modern era, with Bradford City's 2015 victory over Chelsea standing out. Chelsea, then Premier League champions with a star-studded squad, faced Bradford City, a League One club. The match ended 4-2 in favor of Bradford after extra time, a result that stunned the football world.

This upset demonstrated that, despite advances in sports science, analytics, and tactical preparation, the FA Cup's unpredictability remains intact. It also highlighted the competitive spirit and resilience lower-league teams bring to these matches, often fueled by the prospect of financial windfalls and national recognition.

Factors Contributing to FA Cup Upsets

Understanding why these upsets occur involves examining a combination of factors that level the playing field in knockout football.

Psychological Pressure and Motivation

Higher-ranked teams often face immense pressure to avoid embarrassment, which can sometimes lead to underestimating opponents. Conversely, underdogs approach these games with heightened motivation, viewing the match as an opportunity to make history. This mental dynamic frequently shifts momentum in favor of the smaller team.

Tactical Approaches and Game Management

Lower-tier teams tend to adopt defensive, counter-attacking tactics to frustrate their more talented opponents. Discipline, compactness, and exploiting set-pieces become crucial. Managers often tailor their game plans specifically for these encounters, emphasizing risk minimization and capitalizing on any mistakes by the favorites.

Squad Rotation and Prioritization

Top clubs sometimes deprioritize cup competitions, especially in congested fixture schedules, leading to weakened line-ups. This approach can backfire, as less experienced players may struggle against opponents who field their strongest XI.

Home Advantage and Crowd Influence

Playing at home often benefits underdogs, with familiar surroundings and passionate fans creating an intimidating atmosphere. Smaller grounds can also disrupt the rhythm of bigger teams accustomed to large stadiums.

Iconic FA Cup Upsets: A List of Unforgettable Results

To encapsulate the scale and variety of shock results, here is a curated list of some of the biggest upsets in FA Cup history:

- Hereford United 2-1 Newcastle United (1972)
- Sutton United 2-1 Coventry City (1989)
- Wrexham 2-1 Arsenal (1992)
- Bradford City 4-2 Chelsea (2015)
- Lincoln City 1-0 Burnley (2017) – Lincoln became the first non-league team in over a century to reach the FA Cup quarter-finals.
- Luton Town 3-2 Norwich City (2013) – A League One team knocking out a Championship side.
- Cheltenham Town 2-1 Newcastle United (2002) – A third-tier side defeating a Premier League club.

Each of these results carries its own narrative, shaped by context, expectations, and the broader football environment of the time.

Implications of Upsets on English Football

The ripple effects of these FA Cup shocks extend beyond the immediate results. For smaller clubs, giant-killings can lead to increased media exposure, financial rewards from prize money and gate receipts, and a surge in fan support. For larger clubs, the losses often prompt introspection regarding squad depth, tactical flexibility, and competition priorities.

Furthermore, these upsets contribute to the FA Cup's enduring mystique, sustaining fan interest and media coverage. They remind stakeholders that football is not solely about resources and star power but also passion, community, and unpredictability.

As the competition evolves, the legacy of the biggest upsets in FA Cup history continues to inspire players and fans alike. Each new season offers the possibility of a fresh surprise, reinforcing why the FA Cup remains a cornerstone of English football culture.

biggest upsets in fa cup history: From the Cowshed to the Kop Peter Cormack, 2012-05-10 In a playing career spanning nearly two decades, Peter Cormack became a real fans' favourite both at Hibernian FC and with the mighty Liverpool team of the 1970s. Snatched from under the noses of local rivals Hearts, Peter Cormack soon established himself as a skilful and immensely talented midfielder in an excellent Hibs side and went on to score 75 goals in 182 appearances including in the legendary game against Napoli when Hibs beat the Italian giants 5-0 at Easter Road to overturn a seemingly impossible 4-1 deficit. In 1970, he moved to Nottingham Forest, partly as a result of receiving a 12-match ban for two consecutive red cards, and realizing it was finally time to move on. After Forest were relegated, Peter Cormack was signed for Liverpool by the legendary Bill Shankly and joined Reds heroes Kevin Keegan, Tommy Smith and Emlyn Hughes in a team that would later go on to conquer the footballing world. In Cormack's time, however, Liverpool were warming up for European Cup glory with a League Championship, a UEFA Cup double and an FA Cup victory. After a serious injury, Ray Kennedy took over his role in the team and Cormack's time at Liverpool came to an abrupt end. Following a stint at Bristol City and a short time playing alongside George Best back at Hibs, Cormack went into football management, with mixed fortunes, but his lasting achievements in the game both north and south of the border are told with honesty and humour along with some rare insights into some of the greats of the game.

biggest upsets in fa cup history: BBC Sports Report Pat Murphy, 2022-09-29 SHORTLISTED FOR THE SUNDAY TIMES SPORTS BOOK AWARDS 2023 - SPORTS ENTERTAINMENT BOOK OF THE YEAR Sports Report is as much a 75-year history of sport as a BBC radio institution and Pat Murphy pays handsome tribute to a programme that is still followed affectionately by millions. For nearly 75 years, one BBC programme has been a constant factor in chronicling the way sport is covered, in all its many facets. It has been a window on the sporting world all over the globe - packed tightly into every Saturday evening for the bulk of the year. First broadcast in 1948, Sports Report is the longest-running radio sporting programme in the world and one of the BBC's hardy perennials. Pat Murphy has been a reporter on the programme since 1981 and here he sifts comprehensively through the experiences of his contemporaries and those who made their mark on Sports Report in earlier decades. He hears from commentators, reporters, producers, presenters and the production teams who regularly achieved the broadcasting miracle of getting a live programme on air, without a script, adapting as the hour of news, reaction and comment unfolded. Drawing on unique access from the BBC Archives Unit, he highlights memorable moments from Sports Report, details the challenges faced in getting live interviews on air from draughty, noisy dressing-room areas and celebrates the feat of just a small production team in the studio who, somehow, get the show up and running every Saturday, with the clock ticking implacably on.

biggest upsets in fa cup history: Highbury Bruce Smith, 2012-11-30 Highbury - citadel for Arsenal Football Club for over 90 years and home to the memories of over 10,000 matches. In this informative book, Bruce Smith exhaustively chronicles the life and times of the Gunners' home ground in north London, from the site's humble beginnings as college playing fields to its present status as one of the most recognisable pieces of football real estate in the world. The book highlights how pioneering architects such as Archibald Leitch, Claude Waterlow Ferrier and William Binnie played a vital role in shaping Highbury and how other personalities, including Sir Henry Norris, A.G. Kearney, Herbert Chapman and David Dein, have influenced its development. Highbury documents the important role and influence of the Football League, Premiership, FA Cup and European competitions in the ground's colourful history and, in addition, details the England internationals, representative encounters, FA Cup semi-finals and European play-offs which have taken place there, as well as the legendary Cooper v. Clay World Championship bout of 1966. Featuring many personal photographs by the author and others from the archives, Highbury is a timely tribute to an iconic structure that was part of the fabric of sporting history for almost a century.

biggest upsets in fa cup history: My Family's Other Recipes Ian Nunn, 2011-12-01 Bullied by his second daughter into putting the family's favourite recipes into book form, this subject became a sub-theme in what turned out to be an autobiography, but one written about an ordinary life although with an ability to find the humorous side of most events. For serious foodies this book may be a little thin on content but there are some interesting pieces of food history and it is very much a personal view of the last sixty years. The book is set out in four sections, based loosely on four periods of the author's life, and given titles based on a four course meal of hors d'oeuvres, fish, meat and dessert entitled horses doovers, fishy tales, butcher's meat and just desserts. If you want a relaxing read on an inconsequential life which may make you smile, buy this book. If you want a serious cookery book or autobiography of someone famous or important, then you will have to look elsewhere. What does come through is here is a book written by a guy with a love of life, a beard more appropriate to a mad badger and a slightly quirky sense of humour who writes for his own enjoyment but with a warmth others may find undemanding.

biggest upsets in fa cup history: Dave Bassett - Settling the Score Dave Bassett, 2012-10-17 Dave Bassett is one of football's colourful characters. He is the man who led Wimbledon to their FA Cup triumph in 1988. His talents are renowned throughout the football league. In his autobiography he reveals the stories that have been the hallmark of his amazing career. He reveals the truth behind his four days in charge of Crystal Palace, his fiery relationship with Elton John at Watford, the boardroom battles during his time at Sheffield United and also the chain of events that led to his rejection of Manchester City. He also explains his philosophy of football which has led to his success and made him one of the personalities in the history of the game. biggest upsets in fa cup history: Crash of the Buffalo Jay Mwamba, 2023-11-09 Jay Mwamba's Crash of the Buffalo is a compelling account of the 1993 plane crash that wiped out Zambia's national soccer team, and the inspiring story of the nation's remarkable comeback. The book details the tragedy, its aftermath, and the incredible resilience and determination of a nation to rebuild and honor the memories of its fallen heroes. Zambia was on the cusp of qualifying for the 1994 World Cup in the U.S. when the DHC-5D Buffalo military transport carrying the team crashed into the Atlantic Ocean, killing all 30 people on board. The nation was devastated, but the government announced that the team would continue with its quest to qualify for both the World Cup and the African Cup of Nations. A new squad was built around star player Kalusha Bwalya, who'd escaped the crash. The squad underwent an intensive six-week training program in Denmark under a young coach named Roald Poulsen. Rebuilt Zambia went on to defeat Morocco in its first game 10 weeks after the crash. And 11 months later, they stormed into the final of the 1994 African Cup of Nations.

biggest upsets in fa cup history: The Gaffer Navdeep Rehill, 2014-04-17 Navdeep Rehill felt it was about time that football managers were given the credit they deserve. The Gaffer looks at how Sir Alf Ramsey tactically outwitted opposing managers in the 1966 World Cup, how Sir Alex Ferguson knocked Liverpool of their perch and how Brian Clough turned Nottingham Forest into the best team in Europe.

biggest upsets in fa cup history: Victoria's Story - A Work in Process Victoria Tassone-Amato, 2024-05-16 After a very strict upbringing, Vittoria/Vicki/Victoria struggles to 'fit' in the more modern society of their new Country to which her immigrant parents brought her. It is a story as seen and experienced initially by a 5 year old, from the time she leaves her birthplace; her long sea voyage to Australia; the restrictive cultural rules she had to adhere to whilst in her 'inner society'; and the lengths she had to go to, in order to give the appearance that she was just like the other girls in the 'outer society'. It is a story of the ever-present anxiety of her 'double life' being found out; the ever-present fears of embarrassment if her 'outer society' friends were to find out how 'stuck' her family was in their old country's cultural ideas and beliefs; and her naivety to believe that if she let her guard down she would be met with disbelief and ridicule; only to later discover that Australia was made up of 'New' Australians. It is a story of the 'dating' challenges faced by a young female growing up in such a restrictive household and the calculated risks she took, (sometimes with her co-conspirators), in order to get her parents' permission to go out with her friends. It is a story of learning from her parents to appreciate and be thankful for what she had; and that her trait of having compassion for others was only possible because of the love and family values that were instilled in her. It is a story of the human spirit's great capacity to heal the disappointments; hurt and betrayal; which, in turn, enables one to forgive. Of the strong faith one needs to possess in order to accept the physical and emotional pain with which one is afflicted in life. And of the great strength with which one is graced in order to cope when in such pain. But mostly, it is a story of the comradery which existed between the families during that era. They relied on and helped one another with everything. They laughed, cried and shared with one another. There was a sense of belonging, closeness and security that seems to be missing in the lives of so many of our young people today.

biggest upsets in fa cup history: The Trillion Dollar Conman Ben Robinson, 2024-10-24 Based on the hit BBC 5Live podcast series, The Trillion Dollar Conman is an audacious tale of an international fraud that is stranger than fiction. In 2009, Notts County FC were on the brink of bankruptcy when they were taken over by a mysterious company supposedly backed by the Bahraini royal family. The club was promised millions of pounds worth of investment and a list of marquee players, including Sol Campbell and Kasper Schmeichel were signed, in a recruitment drive led by former England manager Sven-Göran Eriksson, who was appointed to take the club all the way to the Premier League. However, within weeks, as the bills began to pile up, the dream came tumbling down as it transpired that the club, the players and the fans had been tricked by a convicted fraudster called Russell King. The world's oldest professional football club found itself at the centre of one of the most outlandish frauds in sporting and world history, which spanned the globe from Nottingham to North Korea, involving fake sheikhs, fast cars, broken promises and a trail of destruction.

biggest upsets in fa cup history: Riding Through The Storm Geoff Thomas, 2008-12-09 Geoff Thomas's heroic battle to overcome leukaemia, and then take on the toughest sporting challenge: to ride the Tour de France When Geoff Thomas struggled to play a friendly game of tennis while on holiday in Mallorca in May 2003, he thought little of it. Recently retired as a footballer, he believed it was a sign of ageing and perhaps a pulled muscle. But when the pain wouldn't go away, his wife Julie persuaded him to go to a doctor. He was diagnosed as having leukaemia. RIDING THROUGH THE STORM focuses on his journey round the Tour de France in the summer of 2005, riding the 2,240-mile course in the 21 days it takes Lance Armstrong and all the top cyclists, despite never having cycled much before. Despite the odds against him achieving it, he rode the course and raised nearly £200,000 for charity. As he rides, he looks back on his successful career as a footballer, and the bone-marrow transplant that saved his life. This is a powerful, moving and inspirational story of extraordinary achievement.

biggest upsets in fa cup history: Field of Dreams Nige Tassell, 2023-03-30 100 years of Wembley Stadium told through 100 matches. Hundreds of thousands of fans, 5,000 were on the pitch, and a horse called Billy. That was the scene for the inauspicious first football match to be played at the British Empire Exhibition Stadium back in 1923, soon to be known as Wembley. More than a century later, Wembley remains the world's most famous football stadium. Watching your team there is the highlight of a fan's lifetime of support; playing on its hallowed turf the fulfilment of a childhood dream. Nige Tassell chooses 100 matches that have shaped Wembley's legacy - from England's triumphs in World Cup and Euros tournaments to groundbreaking women's matches and various non-league finals, by way of greyhounds, stunt motorcycles and the feet of 72,000 music fans at Live Aid - and tells a lively and original alternative history of the past century of football, and of Britain. Field of Dreams is the story of how football found its home.

biggest upsets in fa cup history: Miracle Men Nikhil Naz, 2019-06-05 The year was 1983 and Team India was in its first-ever World Cup final. They were the minnows of the cricketing world - so much so that the bookmakers were offering 66:1 against India winning the title. Yet, despite the odds stacked against them, Kapil Dev's inspirational captaincy took a bunch of no-hopers to World Cup glory. As Dev held the trophy in his hands on 25 June that year, India ushered in an era during which cricket would go on to dominate all sporting activity in the country and the men who played the winning innings would be venerated as demigods. Based on first-hand accounts of the days leading up to that historic win, Miracle Men brings alive some of the most glorious moments in Indian cricket. From dressing-room disagreements to selectorial intrigues to on-field strategies, this riveting account is as entertaining and full of unexpected turns as the best game of cricket.

biggest upsets in fa cup history: Match of the Day: 50 Years of Football Nick Constable, 2014-09-15 Remember Sergio Aguero's late goal to win the title for Man City? Or, best of all, Geoff Hurst's hat-trick winning the World Cup for England in 1966? Over half a century, Match of the Day has witnessed some of the greatest moments in football history, week in, week out. From the big shorts and brown leather balls of the Stanley Matthews era, through the classic tussles of the old First Division, right up to the glamour of the globe-spanning game that we know today, football has undergone an incredible journey - and now, in this milestone 50th year, Match of the Day celebrates the very best of the drama and the heartache. With evocative memorabilia and photography throughout, relive the story of the beautiful game, season-by-season. Featuring favourite Match of the Day memories from top players and long-standing members of the MOTD team, this is the ultimate collection of football memories for any fan.
