ameriprise financial center minneapolis: Plunkett's Investment & Securities Industry Almanac Jack W. Plunkett, 2008 The investment and securities industry is rebounding from the dismal markets of the early 2000s. Improved corporate profits, low interest rates and efforts to improve corporate governance have led the way, despite recent scandals in the mutual funds industry. Meanwhile, the investment industry is increasingly a global business. This is partly due to the needs of multinational corporations to list their stocks or issue debt in more than one nation. For example, ADRs (American Depositary Receipts) are increasingly popular instruments. Cross-border investments and acquisitions continue at a rapid pace. Discount brokerages are enjoying improved levels of trading, while investment banks are developing new ways to create lucrative fees. How would Jesus answer the most divisive questions that people struggle with today? Did Jesus ever address the issues of racism, socialism, politics, and the church's responsibility to the poor? Where is God in the middle of a natural disaster? Does the Bible address the Second Amendment and the right to defend yourself? Does God have anything to say about the subject of medical ethics and a dignified right to die? Can our health-care system be fixed? Did God give us a better plan than our current banking system of interest and debt? How would Jesus address these issues if he was in our midst today? This book will give you some practical answers and help you defend your faith in a nonthreatening way. Pastor Dan Ver Woert offers an insightful and thought-provoking look into these questions and tries to answer them through the eyes of Jesus and thus the title: The Jesus Answer.

Its main contribution lies in the application of standard results from population genetics which have widely been neglected in the agent-based community.
