The journal highlights works that investigate how diasporic communities maintain ties to ancestral homelands while forging new identities abroad. This includes discussions of contemporary authors such as Jhumpa Lahiri and Mohsin Hamid, whose writings address the nuances of belonging and alienation in transnational contexts.

Gender and Feminist Perspectives

Feminist literary criticism is a vital part of the journal's content, analyzing how gender roles, patriarchy, and women's agency are represented in South Asian literature. journal of south asian literature: Narratives of Trauma in South Asian Literature

Goutam Karmakar, Zeenat Khan, 2022-12-30 This volume addresses cultural and literary narratives of trauma in South Asian literature. Presenting a novel cross-cultural perspective on trauma theory, the essays within this volume study the divergent cultural responses to trauma and violence in various parts of South Asia, including Sri Lanka, Bangladesh, Nepal, and Afghanistan, which have received little attention in literary writings on trauma in their specific circumstances. Through comprehensive sociocultural understanding of the region, this book creates an approachable space where trauma engages with themes like racial identity, ethnicity, nationality, religious dogma, and cultural environment. With case studies from Kashmir, the 1971 liberation war of Bangladesh, and armed conflict in Nepal and Afghanistan, the volume will be of interest to scholars, students and researchers of literature, history, politics, conflict studies, and South Asian studies.

journal of south asian literature: Literary Research and Postcolonial Literatures in English H. Faye Christenberry, Angela Courtney, Liorah Golomb, Melissa S. Van Vuuren, 2012-08-08 Postcolonial literatures can be defined as the body of creative work written by authors whose lands were formerly subjugated to colonial rule. In previous volumes of this series, the research literature of former British colonies Australia, Canada, Ireland, and New Zealand have been addressed. This volume offers guidance for those researching the postcolonial literature of the former British colonies in Africa, the Caribbean, and South Asia. Among the forty nations represented in this volume are South Africa, India, Pakistan, Ghana, Jamaica, Swaziland, Belize, and Namibia. With the exception of South Africa (which formed the Union of South Africa in 1910), this guide picks up its coverage in 1947, when both India and Pakistan gained their independence. The literature created by writers from these nations represents the diverse experiences in the postcolonial condition and are the subject of this book. The volume provides best-practice suggestions for the research process and discusses how to take advantage of primary text resources in a variety of formats, both digital and paper based: bibliographies, indexes, research guides, archives, special collections, and microforms.

journal of south asian literature: Orientalische Erzähler der Gegenwart Konrad Meisig, 1999 Der Sammelband gibt eine erste Einführung in Werk und Biographie der grossen Erzähler und Erzählerinnen der indischen, chinesischen und arabisch-türkisch-persischen Welt. Über die berühmten Namen hinaus werden insbesondere auch junge, weithin noch unbekannte, aber vielversprechende Gegenwartsautoren vorgestellt. Trends und Tendenzen der modernen, teils realistischen, teils allegorischen, immer aber kritisch-engagierten Literatur Asiens laden zum internationalen Literaturvergleich ein. Die einheimischen Kurzgeschichten (11 davon hier in deutscher Erstübersetzung) und Romane in den Sprachen Hindi, Urdu und Tamil, in Chinesisch ebenso wie in Arabisch, Türkisch und Persisch setzen sich auseinander mit Fundamentalismus und religiösem Fanatismus, mit dem Widerstreit zwischen nationaler Orthodoxie und globaler Multikulturalität und mit der Identitätssuche des Individuums in der Anonymität der afro-asiatischen Megametropolen. Mit ihren aktuellen Inhalten und neu entwickelten Erzähltechniken behaupten die Autoren und Autorinnen Asiens ihren eigenständigen Platz in der Weltliteratur.

Pauwels, 2007-12-17 This book considers the popular cinema of North India (Bollywood) and how it recasts literary classics. It addresses the socio-political implications of popular reinterpretations of elite culture, exploring gender issues and the perceived sexism of popular films and how that plays out when literature is reworked into film.

journal of south asian literature: Erzähltechniken der Nayī Kahānī Konrad Meisig, 1996 Zwischen 1950 und 1970 vollzog die literarische Bewegung der Neuen Erzählung (Nayi Kahani) den Durchbruch von der konventionellen Erzählung zur modernen realistischen Situationskurzgeschichte. Unabhängig von religiösen und ideologischen Bindungen verwirklichten die Neuen Erzähler ihre Forderung nach Authentizität und Aktualität. Um den Abstand zwischen Wirklichkeit und Literatur zu minimalisieren, entwickelten sie narrative Verfahren, die zu einer Entsprechung von Inhalt und Form führten. In Auseinandersetzung mit indischer und westlicher Literatur und Literaturtheorie haben die Neuen Erzähler Impulse und Traditionen mit universalkulturellem Anspruch kreativ weitergeführt und vielfach überwunden. So leisteten sie einen originellen Beitrag zur Entfaltung der Gattung Kurzgeschichte, der zum internationalen Literaturvergleich herausfordert, etwa mit der deutschen Kurzgeschichte nach dem Zweiten Weltkrieg, aber auch mit der heutigen Kurzprosa Sudamerikas, Afrikas, der arabischen Welt, Chinas und Japans.

journal of south asian literature: Religion and Identity in the South Asian Diaspora Rajesh Rai, Chitra Sankaran, 2017-07-05 Religious identity constitutes a key element in the formation, development and sustenance of South Asian diasporic communities. Through studies of South Asian communities situated in multiple locales, this book explores the role of religious identity in the social and political organization of the diaspora. It accounts for the factors that underlie the modification of ritual practice in the process of resettlement, and considers how multicultural policies in the adopted state, trans-generational changes and the proliferation of transnational media has impacted the development of these identities in the diaspora. Also crucial is the gender dimension, in terms of how religion and caste affect women's roles in the South Asian diaspora. What emerges then from the way separate communities in the diaspora negotiate religion are diverse patterns that are strategic and contingent. Yet, paradoxically, the dynamic and evolving relationship between religion and diaspora becomes necessary, even imperative, for sustaining a cohesive collective identity in these communities. This book was published as a special issue of South Asian Diaspora.

journal of south asian literature: The Bloomsbury Handbook of Postcolonial Print Cultures Toral Jatin Gajarawala, Neelam Srivastava, Rajeswari Sunder Rajan, Jack Webb, 2023-08-10 The texts that make up postcolonial print cultures are often found outside the archival catalogue, and in lesser-examined repositories such as personal collections, the streets, or appendages to established collections. This volume examines the published and unpublished writing, magazines, pamphlets, paratexts, advertisements, cartoons, radio, and street art that serve as the intellectual forces behind opposition to colonial orders, as meditations on the futures of embryonic nation states, and as visions of new forms of equality. The print cultures examined here are necessarily anti-institutional; they serve as a counterpoint to the colonial archive and, relatedly, to more traditional genres and text formats coming out of large-scale publishers. This means that much of the primary material analyzed in this book has not been scrutinized before. Many of these print productions articulate collective liberation projects with origins in the grassroots. They include debates around the shape of the postcolonial nation and the new state formation that necessarily draw on a diverse and contentious public sphere of opinion. Their rhetoric ranges from the reformist to the revolutionary. Reflecting the diversity, indeed the disorderliness, of postcolonial print cultures this book covers local, national, and transnational cultures from Asia, Africa, Europe and the Americas. Its wide-ranging essays offer a nuanced and, taken together, a definitive (though that is not to say comprehensive or systematic) study of a global phenomenon: postcolonial print cultures as a distinct literary field. The chapters recover the efforts of writers, readers and publishers to produce a postcolonialism 'from below', and thereby offer a range of fresh perspectives on the meaning and history of postcolonialism.

journal of south asian literature: Bollywood's New Woman Megha Anwer, Anupama Arora, 2021-06-18 Bollywood's New Woman examines Bollywood's construction and presentation of the Indian Woman since the 1990s. The groundbreaking collection illuminates the contexts and contours of this contemporary figure that has been identified in sociological and historical discourses as the "New Woman." On the one hand, this figure is a variant of the fin de siècle phenomenon of the "New Woman" in the United Kingdom and the United States. In the Indian context, the New Woman is a distinct articulation resulting from the nation's tryst with neoliberal reform, consolidation of the middle class, and the ascendancy of aggressive Hindu Right politics.

journal of south asian literature: Writing Disaster in South Asian Literature and Culture Sk Sagir Ali, Swayamdipta Das, 2024-05-15 Writing Disaster in South Asian Literature and Culture: The Limits of Empathy and Cosmopolitan Imagination looks at the myriad ways in which disaster events (both man-made and natural) are perceived and represented in South Asian literature and culture. This book explores the affective mechanisms of empathy and imaginary identification which are conditioned and reiterated by biopolitical statist regimes of power to preempt and coopt any radical agential or cognitive intervention which might be evinced by the event of the disaster. The contributors also examine South Asian disasters vis-a-vis the registers of ecological crises, migration events, civil and liberation wars, and pandemics to understand the multifarious ways in which such 'disasters' are used as tropes to peddle certain structures of interpellation in the collective consciousness.
